

PRIVACY POLICY

The use of our website by our users implies the acceptance of the clauses of our Privacy Policy. Otherwise, we ask that you not provide us with any of your personal information.

1. What kind of personal information do we collect

We request personal identification information and real estate information from you whenever you fill out our form or participate in certain other actions on our website.

The decision to pursue with any activity that asks for your personal information is under your responsibility. However, if you do not want to provide the requested personal information, you may not be able to complete the corresponding action on the site.

Likewise, when you visit our websites, we will collect information known as "clickstreams" (IP address, domain name, etc.). This information, combined with the data you provide, allows us to personalize your visits better.

2. How do we use the information we collect?

We use your personal information in the following ways:

1. To provide you with information about our service updates, performance reports, newsletters, informative emails and ideas for future improvements, in short, actions with clear objectives on the website;
2. To offer you special offers that may be of interest to you;
3. To help us create better categories and / or services that meet your needs.

3. How do we protect your personal information?

To ensure the security of your personal information, we have established a series of security measures and protections. In addition to technical measures such as software for encrypting information, your personal information is stored on secure networks that can only be accessed by a limited number of people who have special access rights and undertake to respect and maintain the confidential nature of such information.

Notwithstanding these measures, when you provide personal information on the Internet there is always a risk that they may be intercepted and used by third parties outside our control. We make every effort to protect your personal information and your privacy, but can not guarantee the security of the information you make available through the Internet.

4. Who has access to your personal information and to what extent?

In addition to our website and for the purposes described above, we do not sell, exchange or transfer your personal information to third parties in any form without first informing you of such situation, and always in accordance with the current legislation on the protection of personal information. Your personal information may be transferred to third party subcontractors to provide us with certain services. We require such outsourced suppliers to keep our customers' personal information secure and confidential. We also require these suppliers to use personal information only on behalf of the website feeling-inn.com.

5. Cookies

Feeling Inn website may use technology widely known in the industry as "cookies". A cookie is a unique text file that a website sends to your browser software. Cookies allow a Website to customize the information presented to you, based on your browsing preferences. We may use cookies to personalize your pages or to "remember" you when registering links or services. If you do not want the feeling-inn.com site to install cookies in your browser, you can set cookies to reject cookies. Rejecting cookies may affect your ability to use some of the services on our website.

6. Changes to the privacy policy

In the future, we may choose to modify or update this policy either because of changes in legislation or in order to cover new developments in the Internet. Accordingly, we reserve the right to make any changes in this regard and request that you visit this page on a regular basis, as such changes may affect you as a visitor to our website.

7. Cookies and Web Beacons

We use cookies to store information, such as your personal preferences when visiting our website. The user always has the option to turn off their cookies, in the options of their browser, or making changes in the tools of anti-virus programs. However, this may change how you interact with our website, or other websites. This may or may not affect your ability to log in to programs, websites, or forums from our and other networks.

8. Contact Us

For any questions regarding this privacy policy and privacy aspects of our products and services, or to make a complaint, please fill out our contact form.